Risks and Benefits

There are risks and benefits to the counselling process. Counselling may involve the risk of remembering unpleasant events and may arouse strong and/or unanticipated feelings. Benefits of counselling may be an increased ability to live more effectively; improving your ability to cope with issues that arise in areas of your life such as interpersonal relationships, family, friends and career. You may also gain a better understanding of yourself, your goals and your values which will assist you in your personal and career growth. Given the nature of counselling, it is difficult to predict or guarantee any particular outcomes. However, Amy will do her best to help you experience its benefits. Amy encourages you to discuss any questions or concerns with her at any point in therapy.

Your Responsibilities

Personal commitment to counselling is crucial to success. It is important that you be active, open and honest with your counsellor. Your most important responsibility is to work toward the goals you and your counsellor have agreed upon. Seeing a counsellor is often enhanced with additional efforts made outside the counselling office. This effort can include thinking about the material covered in your sessions, monitoring the behaviours you are trying to change, or working on specific aspects of counselling such as keeping a journal, reading a book or article, or practicing a new skill.

Payment Policy

The set fee for service is $90.00 per hour. Workshop rates vary depending on the workshop. Full payment is required upon receipt of service in the form of cash, cheque or paypal. In the event that payment is not made when due, payment will be required prior to scheduling subsequent appointments.

Cancellation and Missed Appointment Policy

Amy asks that you please call (519)791-8313 if you are unable to keep your scheduled appointment. Or, if you prefer, you may email her at amymullinsbsw@gmail.com. Please contact her at least 24 hours prior to your scheduled appointment time.

All appointments cancelled less than 24hrs prior to your scheduled time, or “no show” appointments will be charged a $30.00 fee.

Informed Consent

Informed consent for counselling services is essential and out of respect for your right to self-determination. Consent must be given voluntarily, knowingly and intelligently. You have the right to change your mind and withdraw informed consent at any time.
